

“One More Time” swing band

Let me introduce myself to you. I’m Joyce Hall and I’ve lived in Covington all my life except when I attended Wittenberg University studying teacher training. I started my teaching career here in Covington and just loved it. I enjoyed playing clarinet in the CHS band and I also played in the band at Wittenberg. After allowing music and clarinet to step aside, for eighteen years, I decided it was time to get out that instrument and start playing again.

I started playing in the Tipp Community Band along with Clifford Miller Jr. probably twenty five years ago. Out of that group, a few of us decided that we would like to broaden our experiences by playing swing music. You know, those good oldies of the 20’s, 30’s, 40’, and 50’s. The group named themselves “One More Time”. Cliff, at age 91, plays trombone in this band. We are a small group composed of 2 trumpets, 2 trombones, a bass, drums, and 4 saxophones. Two of us are from Covington. Popular numbers include “In the Mood”, “Stardust”, “Woodchopper’s Ball”, and many more. We play for many various functions. We especially enjoy it when the audience dances and enjoys our music as we play.

Cliff and I feel fortunate to be able to play in this special group. Please feel free to visit our web site www.onemoretimeswingband.com . We can liven up your party. Thanks for letting me tell you about our group. We’d love to see you at the Roller Mill and play for your special function sometime in the future.
